BIOGRAPHIE

Lynda Rogers is an associate in the Saint John office of Cox & Palmer. She has a general litigation practice with a focus on insurance, health and administrative law.

Lynda obtained a law degree from the Schulich School of Law at Dalhousie University in 2019, during which time she completed a placement at the Dalhousie Legal Aid Clinic and coordinated a Co-op Legal Education Program for high school students. Lynda also represented Dalhousie at the Laskin Moot Competition, an annual national moot court competition for law students in administrative and constitutional law, where she and her team won best pair, best factum and she earned second place oralist.

Lynda was called to the New Brunswick bar in 2020. She obtained a Bachelor of Science in Biology from Dalhousie University in 2016.

In her spare time, Lynda enjoys dance, theatre and travel.
